Keizai Dōyūkai | Japan Association of Corporate Executives
経済同友会

Archived Site \(IA\) | Archived Site \(NDL\) | Live Site

This website states that the current constitution no longer conforms to today's world. Dealing with foreign major disasters and terrorism, and protecting the international order will be essential to the protection of Japan's prosperity and security. It should not hesitate to revise Article 9 in order to ensure its national security. Japan should also include articles for national emergency in its revised constitution; clarify the scope of citizens' rights; and discuss the process of constitutional revision.

Nihon Keizai Dantai Rengōkai | Keidanren
日本経済団体連合会 (経団連)

Archived Site \(IA\) | Archived Site \(NDL\) | Live Site

Keidanren is one of the largest three business groups in Japan; the others are the Japan Association of Corporate Executives (Keizai Dōyūkai/経済同友会) and the Japan Chamber of Commerce and Industry (Nihon Shōkō Kaigisho/日本商工会議所). Keidanren is composed of major companies in Japan and has been influential in politics, representing big business in Japan. This group has a long history of providing donations to the Liberal Democratic Party (LDP). Keidanren has occasionally made proposals regarding various political issues, including constitutional revision. They also published reviews of major political parties. The reviews have been a criteria for companies to decide to which party they provide donations. In 2003, Keidanren released 「憲法問題調査会意見書 自立した個人、自立した国たるために」 (Japanese PDF) | [A Proposal for Constitutional Revision for Independent Individuals and Nation].
