Theme: How Can We Sustain Digital Scholarship? A Tripartite Dialogue

Program description:

The COVID-19 pandemic and social distancing have revealed the absolute importance of curating and maintaining digital research resources for academic libraries, and it makes us think critically about how these digital scholarship projects can be sustained into the future. This panel will invite three speakers representing key stakeholders in digital scholarship, namely scholars, librarians, and vendors to address current practices, technical issues, and future plans for digital preservation and sustainability, and to reflect the impact of COVID-19 on digital scholarship. It intends to promote a tripartite dialogue and collaboration towards a sustainable future of digital scholarship.
